Sherman, Capt. Sherill Babcock, Mr. Charles Miller, and Mr. Edward G. Wagner, all of Utica. Mr. Sherman preceded the party some days, attracted by the golf tournament on the Ekwanok Country Club links. The engagement of Miss Eleanor Miller to Mr. Richard Updyke Sherman, both members of this little party, was announced a few weeks ago. The Millers were among the Vice President's guests at the inaugural festivities.

Miss Frederica Morgan will leave Washington this morning for Spring Lake, to be the guest of Miss Cartwright Lynch, of Lakewood, N. J., who is spending the season with her mother at the New Monmouth Hotel. The engagement of Miss Lorraine d'Oremieux Roosevelt, daughter of Mrs. J. West Roosevelt, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., to Mr. Langdon Warner, of Boston, Mass., announced on Sunday, is of much interest to members of official and other smart circles in Washington.

Mrs. Roosevelt and her daughter were frequent visitors at the White House during the past two administrations, as Mrs. J. West Roosevelt's late husband was a cousin of the ex-President, and they were also neighbors at Oyster Bay. Mrs. Roosevelt and her daughter last visited the White House at Christmas and remained here for the coming-out ball of Miss Ethel Roosevelt, and for the New Year's reception. NO WEDDING, THINKS TILTON

State's Attorney Believes MacDonald Has Never Married Wife No. 2.

Latter Is Former Society Girl of Norfolk, and Announced Nuptials Caused Surprise.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Norfolk, Va., July 19.—Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Tilton to-night, in reply to criticisms as to why action had not been taken against R. W. MacDonald, the café man, for bigamy, on the allegation by his wife No. 1 in a suit for divorce that he had married Miss Emily Elsworth, of this city, stated that a careful investigation revealed the fact that MacDonald had never married the Norfolk young woman, certainly not in Norfolk, and therefore he could not prosecute. He says that Mrs. MacDonald, No. 1, has also been convinced of this.

Miss Elsworth, before her wedding, was prominent in Norfolk social circles. The announcement, about eighteen months ago, she had married MacDonald in the North created a great sensation here.
